

Camping at the Tower

Castleton Tower Preservation Area is protected open space. It was protected by Utah Open Lands through the cooperative efforts of the local community, climbers and responsible businesses. Utah Open Lands Conservation Association currently owns this land.

BASED on AVAILABILITY. Unfortunately, at this time, REGISTERING does not guarantee you a site.

Because this area is special, there are important considerations for its use. The privilege of camping and using the area depends on the continued good condition of the land. The following provides useful information for appropriate use of the following provides useful information for appropriate use of the campgrounds.

PLEASE CONSIDER:

SUGGESTED USE:

REGISTRATION

Castleton Tower's use has increased. Usage information is needed to guide stewardship decisions.

REGISTER ON-LINE PRIOR TO CAMPING OR USING THIS AREA.

MAINTENANCE

The Castleton Tower Preserve is protected for its scenic, wildlife, and ecological values in addition to its recreational value.

Take care of all this area's conservation values.

Human use often leaves long-lasting impressions on the land.

Practice leave-no-trace camping.

Campfires on the ground sterilize the soil and can harm plants.

Do not have campfires. Prevent fires which are not contained by a fire tray or stove.

Stone fire rings and collecting firewood on-site have a lasting negative impact on the environment.

Do not build campfire rings or burn wood from the preserve.

Off-road vehicles scar the landscape and disturb animals, plants, and other people.

No off-road vehicle use.

Camping in the parking lot can cause unsightly and unpleasant crowding.

Practice what you would like others to do. Do not remove camper shells from trucks. Do not bring camper trailers on-site.

Trash lasts a long time in the desert.

Pack out all of your trash.

Awesome PIT TOILET

There is now a toilet. Please don't put any other kind of waste in besides the obvious. It costs extra every 6 months if other trash has to be sucked out..

Pack out your waste. An on-site pipe safe is available for your donation of to cover the cost of cleaning out. Consider becoming a member. You can donate now by clicking the above "donate" tab. Thanks!

FEE FREE

Currently no fee is required.

Keep it that way by practicing environmentally responsible camping and use.

Use has increased significantly.

Limit overnight stays to less than one week; be thoughtful of the space and other users.

This area requires maintenance.

Pitch-in! Pick up trash, etc. Contact Utah Open Lands for volunteer opportunities.

Donations cover all costs for maintaining this area.

Help us keep costs down by practicing leave-no-trace principles, and please donate.

RISK

Use of this area at your own risk.

PLEASE BE CAREFUL, AND HAVE FUN!

We welcome your comments and stories.

Mike@UtahOpenLands.org